Objectives

- To provide students with information about the opportunities available for Indian students seeking higher education in the UK.
- To guide students on the application process and the support provided by SI-UK for studying abroad.
- To help students understand the benefits and challenges of pursuing education in the UK, enabling them to make informed decisions.

Detailed Report

On 8th September 2021, the Career Guidance and Placement Cell at The Cochin College organized an awareness program titled "Future of Indian Students Abroad" in collaboration with SI-UK. The session, which began at 1:30 PM, was conducted by Rahul Raj and focused on the opportunities available for Indian students in the UK.

The program aimed to inform students about the various academic and professional advantages of pursuing higher education in the UK. Rahul Raj, representing SI-UK, discussed the support services offered by their institution, which include free, independent advice to students applying to UK universities. He provided a comprehensive overview of the application process, the financial considerations, and the cultural aspects of studying in the UK.

The session was well-attended, with 140 students participating. The interactive nature of the presentation allowed students to engage directly with the resource person, asking questions and seeking guidance on their plans to study abroad. The program was specifically designed to benefit the students, with no faculty participation noted.

Outcomes

- Students received detailed information on the steps and resources necessary to apply for higher education in the UK
- Participants gained a clearer understanding of the academic and career benefits of studying abroad, particularly in the UK.

Objectives

- To introduce students to the various career opportunities available in the field of life sciences.
- To provide students with insights into the skills and qualifications required to excel in life sciences.
- To inspire students to pursue careers in life sciences by highlighting the significance and impact of the field.

Detailed Report

The Department of Zoology at The Cochin College organized an online "Life Science Orientation" program on 28th September 2021, beginning at 1:30 PM. The session was conducted by Mr. Rahul Raj, a Consultant at SLMT Kacheripady, and was attended by 34 students and 3 faculty members.

The orientation was aimed at providing students with a comprehensive overview of the career paths available within the life sciences sector. Mr. Rahul Raj discussed the importance of life sciences in addressing global challenges and emphasized the need for skilled professionals in this field. He provided detailed insights into the various roles and specializations within life sciences, along with the qualifications and skills necessary for success.

Dr. Vineeth Kumar T.V, who coordinated the event, contributed valuable perspectives on the current trends and future prospects in life sciences. The interactive session allowed students to ask questions and seek guidance on their academic and career plans.

The orientation was well-received, with active participation from both students and faculty. It served as a valuable platform for students to gain clarity on their career goals and the steps needed to achieve them.

Outcomes

- Students gained a deeper understanding of the diverse career opportunities available in life sciences.
- Participants were better equipped to make informed decisions about pursuing higher studies and careers in life sciences.
- The session inspired students to actively engage in life sciences, recognizing its significance in solving global issues.
